

Business UNusual

FACILITATING UNITED NATIONS REFORM THROUGH PARTNERSHIPS

Commissioned by the United Nations Global Compact Office
Produced by the Global Public Policy Institute

Authors

Jan Martin Witte
Wolfgang Reinicke

Case study authors

Elisabeth Heid
Claudius Furtwängler
Michael Okrob

THE GLOBAL COMPACT

GPPi
global public policy institute

Disclaimer

This report was produced in consultation with a broad group of experts and stakeholders under the guidance of the United Nations Global Compact Office. As far as possible, the report seeks to reflect the many insights and recommendations they provided. However, the views expressed, as well as any errors or omissions, are the responsibility of the authors.

Published by the United Nations Global Compact Office

ISBN 92-1-100980-4

United Nations publication

UN Sales Number E.05.I.79

Copyright © 2005 United Nations

Printed on recycled paper

contents

Foreword by the United Nations Secretary-General Kofi Annan	vii
Executive summary	ix
Chapter 1
Introduction	1
Chapter 2
Appreciating the contribution of partnerships	7
Four functions of partnerships	8
Issue advocacy	8
Developing norms and standards	16
Sharing and coordinating resources and expertise	24
Harnessing markets for development	34
Strong management and local ownership: Accomplishments and challenges	42
Strong partnership management	42
Local ownership	44
Towards a conceptual approach	46
Emergence and development of partnerships	46
Partnership effectiveness and impact	47
Endnotes	49

Chapter 3
The United Nations: An Effective Partnership Player?	53
Opening the United Nations to business and civil society	54
Financing for Development	55
The Commission for Sustainable Development	60
United Nations ESCAP Business Advisory Council (BAC) and the Asia-Pacific Business Forum	60
The United Nations ICT Task Force	61
The United Nations Fund for International Partnerships	61
Taking stock	61
Raising the partnership performance of the United Nations	62
First accomplishments	63
Decentralizing partnerships	70
Challenges on the way	71
Managing the legal process	73
Finding suitable partners	73
Training United Nations staff	74
Assessing impact	74
Raising capacity	74
Learning at the United Nations system level	75
The United Nations as a partnership player – An outside-in perspective	75
Conclusion	77
Endnotes	78
Chapter 4
From Output to Impact: Action Agenda for the United Nations	81
Fostering internal skills, policies, mechanisms, and tools for partnership work	82
Action item 1: Facilitate more systematic training	82
Action item 2: Streamline legal proceedings	83
Action item 3: Improve partner selection processes	83
Supporting local ownership by building capacity at country and regional levels	83
Action item 4: Integrate partnerships in country planning frameworks	83
Action item 5: Provide training to United Nations staff in country and regional offices	84
Building the foundation for “smart selectivity”	84
Action item 6: Introduce a selectivity mechanism	84
Action item 7: Engage in systematic impact assessment on partnerships	85
Investing in system-wide learning and coordination of partnership work	85
Endnotes	87

References	88
The United Nations and partnerships	88
The partnership debate	89
Globalization, global governance and United Nations reform	90
United Nations Global Compact Office Publications	90
Business, Corporate Social Responsibility and the Millennium Development Goals	91
United Nations guidelines for partnering with business	91
Acronyms	93
Acknowledgements	94
About the United Nations Global Compact	95
About the Global Public Policy Institute	96
Boxes
Box 1 GAIN – Global Alliance for Improved Nutrition	11
Box 2 Stop TB Partnership	13
Box 3 “Health In Your Hands”: The Global Public-Private Partnership for Handwashing with Soap	15
Box 4 Global Reporting Initiative	17
Box 5 Access to Basic Services for All	19
Box 6 TNT-WFP Moving the World	25
Box 7 First on the Ground Initiative	29
Box 8 Partnerships for disaster relief: the recent tsunami experience	31
Box 9 Shea Butter Production Initiative	35
Box 10 UNIDO Automotive Partnership	37
Box 11 Allianz-UNDP-GTZ Micro-Insurance Initiative	39
Box 12 Sleeping Sickness Initiative	41
Box 13 Financing for Development Initiative	57
Box 14 The Equator Initiative	67
Box 15 The Seed Initiative	69
Figures
Figure 1 Report Structure	4
Figure 2 Good corporate citizenship and reputation the most important drivers behind a company’s decision to engage the United Nations in partnerships	63
Figure 3 Over half the companies think it is easy to build partnerships with the United Nations; almost all view the United Nations as at least “fairly effective” or better in responding to such requests	75
Figure 4 “Bureaucracy” and a “lack of understanding of corporate culture” are seen as significant impediments for the United Nations to be an effective partner	76