

Advisory Group Cluster Approach Evaluation Phase II

The cluster evaluation team is supported by an Advisory Group including renowned specialists who act as a sounding board for ideas and provide advice on methodological, strategic, practical and technical issues. The Group complements the strong and inclusive Steering Committee of the Cluster Approach Evaluation Phase II, comprising UN agencies, donors and NGOs, which oversees the implementation of the evaluation together with a task team at UN OCHA.

The members of the Advisory Group are invited to provide their views and comments on the analysis and will discuss key findings and possible solutions with the evaluation team in a one-day workshop in early 2010.

Members of the Advisory Group

Anne Bauer

Former head of FAO's Emergency Operations and Rehabilitation Division and former head of international operations of the Norwegian Red Cross

John Borton

Independent humanitarian consultant and former Coordinator of ALNAP

Kate Farnsworth

International affairs consultant and contractor based in Italy and former Disaster Operations Specialist at USAID/OFDA

Siobhán Foran

Gender Advisor for the revision of the SPHERE standards, currently serving as GenCap Advisor to the global clusters in Geneva (hosted by IOM)

Mukesh Kapila

Former DFID staff and later on Advisor to the UN Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Afghanistan, Resident Coordinator for Sudan, Advisor of the Health in Crisis department of WHO and Special Advisor to the IFRC General Secretary on HIV

Hugues Maury

Medical doctor and public health specialist, currently involved in developing quality assurance tools in health and humanitarian aid

Beatrice Pouligny

Independent consultant

For more information about the Cluster Approach Evaluation Phase II, please visit www.gppi.net/consulting/cluster_approach.